Paintings of local natural area on view

Palm Beach County is home to so much natural beauty that it's hard to imagine how art can replicate it — but the work of painter Paul Gervais comes mighty close. Opening this coming Wednesday at Ann Norton Sculpture Gardens, Gervais' exhibition "An Endangered Landscape: Recent Paintings of the Hypoluxo Scrub" is a visual feast for nature-lovers and appreciators of the 98-acre natural area along U.S. 1 in Hypoluxo. Take a friend and enjoy the art! "An Endangered Landscape: Recent Paintings of the Hypoluxo Scrub": Opens Wednesday, Oct. 11 and runs through Jan. 7. Admission is $15 for adults, $10 for seniors, and $7 for children and students. Ann Norton Sculpture Gardens, 253 Barcelona Rd., West Palm Beach. Info: 561-832-5328 or ansg.org.

Powerful feminist work at the Cultural Council

The first of a new season of exhibitions on view at the Cultural Council is "Like Mother, Like Daughter" featuring the work of Palm Beach County-based artist Lauren Bertelson. Her art combines self-portraiture with a variety of domestic crafts to create a feminist body of work that simultaneously recognizes her matrilineage and elevates domestic work to contemporary art. "Lauren Bertelson: Like Mother, Like Daughter": On display Oct. 6 through Dec. 2. Cultural Council for Palm Beach County, 601 Lake Ave., Lake Worth Beach. Info: 561-471-2901 or palmbeachculture.com.
