

THINGS TO DO IN WEST PALM BEACH

At Loic Bakery, 480 Hibiscus St., Unit 116, enjoy a hands-on baking experience learning how to make Loic's focaccia bread. On Friday, Oct. 4, learn the secret to this special recipe and have fun in the kitchen. The class starts at 5:30 p.m. Space is limited. Call 561-570-1425 to reserve your spot.

Join The Butcher Shop for Kidstoberfest on Saturday, Oct. 5, from 10 a.m. to noon. The event, at 209 Sixth St., features a brunch buffet, mini pumpkin patch and decorating, face painting, apple cider, cookie decorating, fall arts and crafts and a DJ for the kids. Plus, brunch and bottomless drinks for mom and dad for $42. Tickets start at $18 for kids 12 and under. For more information call 561-812-2336.

Palm Beach Atlantic University's first symphony concert of the 2019-20 season begins Friday at 300 Okeechobee Blvd., with Franz Schubert's "Symphony No. 5," a work inspired by the composer's love of Mozart. The second half features student concerto contest winner Cayla Metzger performing Carl Reinecke's "Concerto for Flute." The concert concludes with "Prairie Night and Celebration Dance" from the American composer Aaron Copland's "Billy the Kid Suite." For tickets or more information, call 561-803-2970 or visit www.pba.edu/calendar.

There's a free Community Open House on Saturday, Oct. 5, at Ann Norton Sculpture Gardens, 253 Barcelona Road, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. For one day only, the public can step through the gates free of charge for garden and exhibition tours, refreshments in the courtyard, music and surprises. For more information, call 561-832-5328.

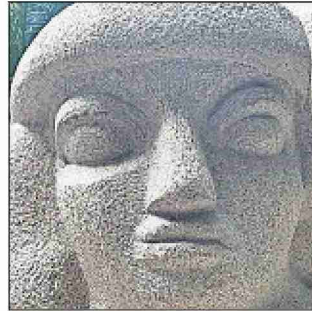

Reggae for Relief takes place today at Surfing Florida Museum, 1400 Elizabeth Ave. Who's ready to party with a purpose? Join the Surfing Florida Museum and Soundwave Productions from 4 to 10 p.m. for a benefit to help Bahamians displaced to Palm Beach County after Hurricane Dorian. For a $5 donation at the door, guests will be treated to live bands, DJs, raffles and live art. For more information visit <https://surfingfloridamuseum.org/>.

District Farmers Market Brunch Bazaar

Loic and Pauline Autret's Loic Bakery-Cafe Bar offers focaccia baking lessons. [TONY DORIS/PALMBEACHPOST.COM]

takes place Sunday, Oct. 6, at Grandview Public Market, 1401 Clare Ave. From 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., shop from local farmers, chefs, bakers, artists, craftspeople, jewelers and small businesses while enjoying brunch specials, craft cocktails, and live music at Grandview Public Market. Free admission, free parking, and free valet. For more information on vendors, please visit: <https://www.districtfarmersmarket.com/>
tdoris@pbpost.com
@TonyDorisPBP

Ann Norton Sculpture Gardens [TONY DORIS/PALMBEACHPOST.COM]

